David Homyk

This is the 83rd post in our Musician of the Day series.

David Homyk was born in Canada but raised in Virginia. He was only 8 years old when he began composing his own music, and letting it take over his life. He would actually spend his class time working on his compositions rather than his classwork or homework. Once school was out he was finally allowed to pick up his instruments, though he started with piano he moved on to include bass, guitar and saxophone.

He eventually went on to attend the University of Virginia where his writing skills overcame his poor academics. It was during this time that he began incorporating his own style and drum beats into Beyonce tracks. They were so good that they eventually caught the attention of Beyonce and her music mogul father Matthew Knowles.

Once he graduated he moved to New York where he began writing and producing tracks with Music World Entertainment (Matthew Knowles is CEO).

He eventually released his own album on Amazon and iTunes entitled True Story.

Outside of his music career he makes regular appearances on All My Children and has also has recurring roles on The Tyra Banks Show and Sex in the City. He has also modeled for several clothing lines.
